Who We Are

Who is providing this notice?

Envision Financial Planning is an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and is providing this notice as required by law. Envision Financial Planning provides a variety of financial products and services to you through our investment adviser representatives. Securities are not offered or provided by Envision Financial Planning on behalf of the federal government, and the offer of such securities is not sanctioned, recommended, or encouraged by the federal government.

What We Do

How does Envision Financial Planning protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. We protect your personal information in the following ways:

- We only grant access to your personal information to parties with whom we have executed confidentiality/nondisclosure agreements and who need that information to serve you or to assist us in conducting our operations.
- We have physical and electronic safeguards in place to ensure that we comply with our own policy, industry practices, and federal and state regulations.
- Our employees are trained in the proper handling of nonpublic personal information.

How does Envision Financial Planning collect my personal information?

Envision Financial Planning collects nonpublic personal information from you, as well as from other sources. The sources and the information collected may include:

- Information you provide to us, to our affiliated entities, or to your advisor on applications and related forms, through discussions with our customer service staff, use of our online services, or on our website
- Information regarding your transaction history with us
- Information from other nonaffiliated third parties, including employers, associations, benefit plan sponsors, credit bureaus, and other institutions, if you transfer positions or funds to Envision Financial Planning.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only:

- Sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- Affiliates from using your information to market to you
- Sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. (See below for more on your rights under state law.)

What We Do

What happens when I limit sharing for an account I hold jointly with someone else?

If you have a joint account, we will treat an opt-out direction by a joint customer as applying to all associated joint customers. Any account holder may express a privacy preference on behalf of the other joint account holders.

Definitions

Nonaffiliates

Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- This may include insurance companies, broker/dealers, investment advisers, mutual fund companies, banks, investment firms, third-party administrators, clearing firms, retirement plan sponsors, and other third parties.
- Our nonaffiliates include Commonwealth Equity Services, LLC (doing business as Commonwealth Financial Network), CES Insurance Agency, Inc. and Advisor360.

Other Important Information

If you live in an “opt-in” state, we are required to obtain your affirmative consent to share your nonpublic personal information with nonaffiliated third parties who do not currently assist us in servicing your account or conducting our business.

California and North Dakota residents: For accounts with a California or North Dakota mailing address, we will not share your personal information with a financial company for joint marketing purposes, except as required or permitted by law.

Nevada residents: This notice is being provided pursuant to state law. If you prefer not to receive marketing calls, contact your advisor directly.

Vermont residents: For accounts with a Vermont mailing address, we will not share your creditworthiness information with our affiliates, except as required or permitted by law. For joint marketing with other financial companies, we will disclose only your name, contact information, and information about your transactions, unless otherwise required or permitted by law.
